A GLORIOUS VICTORY.

From returns thus far received we are inclined to believe that Allegheny County has given GEARY a majority approaching nine thousand. There have been several increases in the vote as compared with that of the LINCOLN election in 1864, while in some localities the Union Republicans have sustained trivial losses. MOORHEAD and WILLIAMS have both been re-elected to Congress, and all of our local county officers are certainly elected by overwhelming majorities. The news from Ohio and Indiana is very flattering, and beyond any doubt the Union cause has triumphed in those States.

General GEARY is unquestionably elected Governor by a large majority. From the few scattering returns we have from the XIXTH District, we are inclined to believe that Mr. COVODE is elected, which will be a gain of one member of Congress.

We have very few returns from Ohio, but they all show increased Republican majorities.

THE PIRATE SEMMES, of the Alabama, has been elected Probate Judge in Mobile; but, as he is yet unpardoned, he cannot act. Meanwhile many interests are suffering on account of this obstruction of the business of that court. He has been requested to resign, but haughtily refuses, on the assumption that the honor and dignity of Alabama are bound up in his person. Speaking in lordly style, in the third person, he says: "In the attitude which his case has assumed before the public, he regards himself as the humble representative of the honor and dignity of his State, and that State shall not be outraged and dishonored through him." In no other country in christendom would that scoundrel have escaped a halter; but the mercy and leniency of this government has emboldened him to insult it to its face.

THE PLENARY COUNCIL of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States now in session in Baltimore, consists of seven Archbishops, thirty-eight Bishops, one hundred and twenty-two Priests, Heads of Orders and Doctors of Divinity, seventy-four Ecclesiastics, four Monks, and three Mitred Abbots. The Council was formally opened on Sunday afternoon by Archbishop SPALDING, apostolic delegate, who delivered an address in Latin. The Council will deliberate with closed doors.

CONNECTICUT.—The New York Tribune of Monday gives returns from 143 town elections in Connecticut. The Republicans carried 90; the democrats 40; 7 are divided, and 6 uncertain; but are claimed by the Democrats.

DEATH OF PROF. J. S. RAREY.—This celebrated man, who was known the world over for his extraordinary skill in taming horses, died very suddenly in Cleveland on Thursday last. He was in his 38th year, and a bachelor.

Letter From Thurlow Weed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Thurlow Weed in a lengthy communication addressed to the editor of the New York Times, sustains and approves the action of the Philadelphia Convention, and declares that the Philadelphia Convention contemplates for the pending canvass State organization, in the spirit of its purpose and action. It presumed that anxious to coordinate the conservative sentiment and strength of the northern people, the State organization would proceed upon the basis of union, inaugurated at Philadelphia, Republicans and Democrats for the time being, and for a common object, merging their names and organizations in that of the National Union party. He further says in regard to the Albany nominating convention, that the democratic party consented for the accomplishment of a great national reform—to temporarily merge itself in the National Union movement, was my understanding and expectation. That too was the understanding of the late Mr. Richmond, with whom I [illegible].

He concludes by saying that he shall vote for the Democratic State ticket as he interprets it.

The Times referring to the letter says: While we understand and appreciate Mr. Weed's feelings in this matter, we cannot concur in his conclusion. Much as we see to disapprove and deprecate in acts proposed by prominent and influential men in the Union party, we still deem the country infinitely safer in its hands than in those of the Democratic organization.

Officer John Hipwell was shot in Brooklyn early this morning, it is supposed, by burglars whom he had detected in a house. When found he was in the agonies of death and could give no account of the affair.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 9.—The steamer Saragossa from Charleston for New York arrived here this afternoon with the schooner Mary McKee in tow. She reports finding the schooner off Hatteras with signals of distress flying, the latter being from Mobile with a general cargo. The schooner reports that a hurricane commenced on the 3d instant and blew with terrific violence. On the 5th the storm moderated. At seven o'clock we signalled the steamer North Star, in lat. 31.27; long. 75.40. She appeared to have suffered from the gale and her decks were crowded with passengers. She bore down upon us, but coming too near became unmanageable and ran into the schooner, damaging herself badly. She then stood off, with colors union down, towards a large sailing ship in the distance, and was last seen towards noon on the 5th.

Charles W. Brooks & Co., a large shipping commission firm, suspended to-day. The causes were a heavy defalcation of greenbacks by their late cashier, with the failure of a prominent operator against whose consignments they had accepted. They have first assigned their assets, sufficient to cover their general business liabilities, leaving the operators engagements applicable to the balance. They hope soon to effect an arrangement by resuming their business.

There is little doing in mining shares; Yellow Jacket is quoted at 745; Choilar, 108; Ophir, 182; Legal Tenders, 71¼.

Governor Swann and the Baltimore Police Commissioners.

BALTIMORE, October 9.—Reports are circulating of an intention on the part of Governor Swann, to remove the Police Commissioners of this city, on the grounds of alleged official misconduct in making arrangements for the municipal election. The report occasions much discussion, the Republicans maintaining that the Commissioners have not violated the law, and that the Governor cannot exercise such authority until the Commissioners have been first indicted, tried and convicted of unlawful conduct, as they are placed in office by the Legislature, and not appointed by the Governor. The Conservatives on the other hand, maintain that the Governor can remove the Police Commissioners the same as any other State officials.

After weathering the storm some seventeen hours she foundered at 6 o'clock on the morning of the 3d, with two hundred and seventy souls on board. Only seventeen persons are known to have been saved.

It says that there were only three or four life boats, in one of which the Chief Engineer, the Purser, six of the crew and two passengers succeeded, after capsizing several times, in keeping afloat until they were picked up by the Norwegian bark Fleet Wing, and then were transferred to the schooner S. J. Waring, and arrived here last evening. The following is the list of those saved on the Purser's books: Robert Finger, Chief Engineer, Elery S. Allen, Purser; John Langwater, tender; Frederick Shaffer, coal passer; George Smith, seaman; Dennis Gannon, waiter; Rowland Stevens, waiter; Edward Lorner, passenger; S. H. Harris, passenger.

A second boat took sixteen persons from the steamer, among whom were the Captain and third mate. This boat was capsized twelve or fifteen times. The Captain was lost on the fourth time. This boat arrived at Fernandina on Sunday morning, with six persons, two dead bodies on board, only one passenger was saved in the third mate's boat, his name is Frank Gerard. The following are names of the survivors in this boat—F. Fitzpatrick, third mate; John Dempsey, seaman; John Campbell, seaman; Jos. Howe, seaman; Chancellor, main steerage steward.

Last Night at City Hall.

Early last evening, as the polls closed, the crowds who had thronged them flocked to City Hall, and long before any returns could be expected, the large building was crowded to its utmost capacity. The seats had all been removed, and the standing throng was densely packed in like herrings in a box. A barrier of boards had been built in front of the platform, and extended to the walls on either side. Tickets had been issued for seats on the platform, and it was intended to preserve ample room there for the speakers and reporters, and to keep a free avenue for the bearers of returns. In a very short time, however, those in the hall began to throng under the platform to the stairs, and so upon the stage, and in a remarkably brief period that was as densely crowded as the body of the hall. In spite of all efforts to keep off intruders, it soon became a matter of almost utter impossibility to get from one side of the stage to the other. Persons bringing returns had to fight a desperate fight of difficulty before they could put their figures in the hands of the receiver. The reporters and secretaries had much ado to prevent being shoved out of their chairs and trodden under foot, and everybody felt exceeding desirous that everybody else would quit the platform.

Senator T. J. Bigham made his appearance upon the stage at an early hour and was greeted with loud applause and was loudly called upon for a speech. He responded to the call briefly and pleasantly. The Great Eastern Brass Band took up position in the gallery and from time to time played patriotic airs to enliven the "waits" between returns.

As the announcements came in they were read by Senator Bigham to the expectant throng. Frequently, as some particularly encouraging announcement was read, it would be received with tremendous cheering. Particularly was this the case when the dispatch arrived, stating that Philadelphia had elected all her Republican Congressmen.

General Moorhead entered the hall during the evening and was greeted with tremendous applause, and three cheers were given for "Old Slackwater." The Congressman briefly thanked the people for having so fully vindicated him at the polls. During the evening the meeting was addressed by the Hon. Galusha A. Grow, Hon. J. M. Kirkpatrick, Senator Bigham and others. H. J. Budd, Esq., of Lafayette, Indiana, associate editor of the Daily and Weekly Courier, was introduced and made a brief, but eloquent and telling speech. He proposed to the audience the following toasts: "The Union, Republicanism, and 'My Policy;' may the first be preserved, the second everlasting, and the third eternally damned," a sentiment that was loudly applauded.

Professor Pope was present and sang two or three of his best songs. And after waiting for the reading of the last dispatch at a late hour, the crowd dispersed to their homes.

Yesterday.

For an occasion which had been anticipated with such universal and intense interest, and concerning which party feeling had ran so high, the election yesterday passed off with marvellous quietness and good order. Turbulence and even bloodshed had been almost universally apprehended, but the day passed off with only two or three little rows at some of the polls. During the evening, and late into the night, noise and excitement prevailed on the street, but still no fights or serious disturbances of any kind. All the violence that either party considered worth while, had been used before the election. The unusually large vote polled shows that the people were fully alive to the issue, and the quietness with which the election was conducted showed that they were fully determined to let the ballot, and not the handy billy, decide the matter. The heavy rain that came up at dark prevented any particular demonstration on either side.

Sudden Death.—Mr. Thomas Johnston, of the Tenth ward, died very suddenly yesterday of what his attending physicians declare to be cholera. He had been enjoying excellent health a few hours previous to his demise and had been at the polls until two o'clock in the afternoon. He will be buried to-day.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC COUNCIL.

We publish this morning an article from the New York Tribune on the subject of the National Council of the Roman Catholic Church, which met in Baltimore yesterday, which will be read with interest by both Protestants and Catholics.

Important results to our country are likely to flow from this council—results affecting the religion, the morals and the politics of our country. That the object of this council is to "lengthen the cords and strengthen the stakes" of this vast and most consummately organized communion in the United States is beyond question. And there is a necessity for this; for recent events in Europe plainly indicate that its power there is waning, and that the Pope himself may soon be obliged to quit his ancient seat, and find a more secure resting place. This he cannot find in turbulent France, nor in Spain; for the Spaniards are not able to protect him, nor reliable if they were able. Austria will not do; for the late war with Prussia has so broken its integrity that the hetrogeneous elements of which it is composed may at any time fall asunder. England will not do; for there cannot be two hierarchies in one nation. But will the United States do? Yes: it will do. Here he would find safety and protection, with no law to interfere with the exercise of his functions as the spiritual head of his church; and if he can operate with sufficient success upon popular opinion to bring our politics so far under his control as to give him the balance of power, he might have things pretty much to his mind. Free institutions like ours are not supposed to be favorable to such a system as his; but as slavery grew and prospered for more than three quarters of a century, in spite of our institutions and professed principles, we do not see why that system should fail.

But should the Pope come here and make this the centre of his world-embracing system, one of the most interesting combats will ensue that the world has ever seen. The question will then be thoroughly tested whether the Roman Catholic Church and creed can endure the intellectual and moral light which shines so brilliantly in this country, and which no human power can render less brilliant. The Bible is the book of the people in this country, which has never been the case in any country in which that system of faith has prevailed and ruled.

The head of that church may be constrained to take refuge in this land of freedom and of law from the storms which are manifestly gathering along the horizon of Europe; but if he does so, he must prepare to meet with a moral antagonism such as he never encountered in Europe. Protestants cannot and ought not to object to his coming; for here he must necessarily come under the same laws, and be restricted to the same measure of rights and immunities which all bishops and other clergy enjoy. Then let the weapons of Christian warfare, which are not carnal but spiritual, be brought to bear upon him and his system by any who see proper to use them.

THE COAL QUESTION.

Last winter, as we chronicled at the time, subventions were granted by two or three of the New England States, in aid of a project for constructing a direct railroad line from the Nova Scotia coal mines to Boston. The idea was to substitute provincial bituminous for Pennsylvania anthracite. To checkmate this movement the men interested in the anthracite coal trade urged Congress to increase the import duty on bituminous coal. The object was not to protect and extend the bituminous interest, but the anthracite.

One ton of anthracite for household purposes, in generating heat, is worth two of bituminous. Yet anthracite in the coal regions and in the sea-board markets is sold for a much less price per ton than bituminous. Relatively anthracite is less than half the price of bituminous. On the score, therefore, of economy, as well as of cleanliness, Pennsylvania bituminous cannot be made to compete with Pennsylvania anthracite in the sea-board markets.

These considerations are entitled to weight when measuring the conduct of members of Congress who voted against the increased duty on bituminous coal. That duty was not designed to benefit anybody except the men interested in keeping and extending the market for anthracite.

LETTER FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

From our Special Correspondent.

NEWBERN, N. C., Oct. 5, 1866.

General Dockery declines accepting the nomination for Governor, which was tendered him by the unmistakable Union men of the State. In his letter he expresses himself as in the main in favor of the platform and address, and declares that he would rather accept the Howard Amendment than run the risk of new conditions of reconstruction which a more Radical Congress would be likely to impose. Having said so much, it would have been better if General Dockery had not declined to run, since it required a fair canvass and one election to determine the strength of the party, and whether it could live in the South. A respectable vote, even though a minority, would have strengthened many a weak-kneed loyalist, and given the party such an infusion of courage as would probably have carried it to victory next time. His declension stamps the movement as a failure from the outset. Without a center around which to rally and a practical end to be accomplished, there are few who will venture to expose themselves to the stigma of being Union men, and to the danger which, without disguise threatens "Buffaloes" and "Radicals." The organization it was hoped to establish by this election is now hopelessly demoralized, and Congress will assemble in December without a sign of returning loyalty from North Carolina.

General Dockery is a fair sample of the man through whose aid it was hoped the Union ticket might be elected. Of original Union men there are a considerable number, but in many counties of the State there are probably hardly enough to say no. Their vote alone, save in the extreme western counties, would be insignificant, if they dared to vote at all. The dependence for electing the ticket was on the support of men who have enough perspicacity to see that Congress is going to decide the question of reconstruction, and sure enough to come in out of the wet. As to questions of justice, and equality, and the safety of the nation, the popular mind south doesn't care for them. It is an uneducated mind, not up to dealing with abstractions. The rude dialect, and the uncouth garb of the average North Carolinian, are no unfair index of his mind. Abstract justice, there are few minds anywhere that can grasp, and if the North Carolinian could comprehend it he would not like it. He sees, or thinks he sees, some advantages in having his State restored to her old relations to the Union, and there are some who see that till the conditions imposed by Congress are accepted, the day of final restoration is far off.

This is the position of General Dockery. Perhaps an original Union man, but a man who, while the war lasted, contributed largely by his means and influence to carry it on. But a man who recognizes the right of the conqueror to dictate terms to the vanquished, and who so far comprehends popular feeling at the North as to see that it will yield no tittle of the demands of Congress. Holding these views, he was a proper representative of a large number of his fellow citizens, who, with his name and influence to back them, might have made a success in the coming election. Failing in this they would at least have shown to Congress that there was a respectable minority in the State to whom its fortunes might have been committed.

The organization of the unconditional Union party here was the first dawn of light after an era of undiluted darkness. With its demoralization, we go back to original chaos. The unmistakably loyal men, and the men who, without pretence to former loyalty, frankly accept the situation as it is, no longer have a common ground on which to rally. The defeat of the Constitutional Amendment, so far as this State is concerned, is no longer a question, and the work of reconstruction is necessarily postponed another year. That is the way it looks to an outsider. KARO.

THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The meeting of the Archbishops and Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States, which opens to-morrow at Baltimore, is naturally the subject of considerable interest for all citizens of the United States, irrespective of creed. The Church which these dignitaries represent is no longer a stranger in our land. During the ninety years of our national existence, the number of Bishops has increased from one to forty-seven (among whom are seven Archbishops,) and the number of priests from about 30 to 2,700. The population connected with the Church is estimated at least at 4,000,000, a number exceeding that of any other particular sect, except the combined denominations of Methodists. Thus, the Bishops assembled in Baltimore represent, not something foreign to our land, but a considerable portion of our own nation. It adds to the interest of the Baltimore Council that the Roman Catholics are more numerous than all other religious denominations in the civilized world, taken together, the total population nominally connected with it counting about 190,000,000, while the population nominally connected with the Protestant sects, numbers only 95,000,000, and that of the Greek Church about 70,000,000. Outside of our own country, it is especially the Catholics who will read the accounts of the Council with intense interest. They generally know that, as Louis Napoleon recently stated in his manifesto, the time will soon come when the United States will count a population of more than 100,000,000 of people; that then our country will probably number a much larger number of Roman Catholic inhabitants and of Roman Catholic bishops than any country in the world; and that, therefore, in general councils and in Catholic conventions, containing representatives of all the countries of the world, the Catholics of the United States may soon rank foremost.

There is another consideration which gives to the meeting in Baltimore a special importance for Catholics and non-Catholics, from Americans and non-Americans. This is the unrestrained freedom with which the Bishops of the East and West, of the South and North, and the heads of as many monastic orders as have been established among us may meet according to the call of the Pope, and in accordance with the laws of the Church. No permission has to be asked of any Federal or State authority; no restraint is put upon their deliberations; no pledges are asked of them to obey obnoxious State laws; and when their resolutions have been approved by the Pope, they may proclaim them in every town and village, and enforce them by means of every ecclesiastical weapon they have at their command. The difference in this respect between our country and the countries of Europe is striking. In France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Austria, Prussia, and Russia, no National Council could meet without the previous permission of the Government. Most of the Governments would absolutely refuse the permission, if asked, as is sufficiently proved by the fact that, much as the Pope and Bishops desire that Synods and Bishops—Provincial, which embrace the Bishops of an Ecclesiastical Province, and National, which embrace all the Bishops of a country—should meet at stated intervals, these meetings, especially the National Councils, are exceptional occurrences. In fact, the only notable council of this class in modern times was that held by the German bishops at Wurzburg in 1849, when the victorious revolution had proclaimed a separation of Church and State, and the re-establishment of a German Empire. Thus, the very fact of a grand National Council having taken place in the United States, without any individual or any authority having the remotest idea of interfering in the least with the unlimited rights of Bishops to pass and enforce any resolutions they please, is an eloquent appeal to the whole Roman Catholic population of the world. On the whole, the sympathies of the heads of the Church in Europe have not been with political institutions like ours. The Popes, not excluding Pius IX., have never ceased to count the freedom of religious worship, freedom of the press, and other institutions which are most dear to the American citizen, among the fundamental errors of modern civilization. But the dignitaries and the leading organs of that Church cannot shut their eyes against the curious fact that the forms of government which they have favored most have almost uniformly refused to the Church absolute freedom, while the disliked free institutions of the United States accord it without the least reserve. Facts like these may be unable to at once to modify the teachings of the Church; but they make a lasting impression upon the minds of the masses of the people, and they thus will not fail to exercise a liberalizing influence upon the Catholic world.

The proceedings of the Council will, for the most part, concern matters strictly ecclesiastical and denominational, about which the majority of our people will care but little. But a letter from the Bishop of Savannah, recently published in our columns, indicates that the education of the colored race in the United States will prominently engage the attention of the assembled Bishops. We hope this may be the case, and that the deliberations of the Council may largely aid in increasing the number of negro schools. The sympathies of but few of the Bishops, if any, are with the Radical opponents of slavery; but, if they resolve now to compete with the Protestant Missionaries in educating the South, and thereby give a new impulse to the efforts for meliorating the condition of the negro, the influence of the Council may yet extend beyond its own denomination.—N. Y. Tribune.

Important to the Iron Interests of the United States.

The United States Consul at Sheffield, England, under the date of August 27th, in a communication to the Secretary of the Treasury, states that he was present at Nottingham on the reading of a paper before the British Association on the conversion of melted cast iron into steel by the pneumatic process. A discussion followed, which was participated in by Mr Bessemer and other gentlemen. Consul Abbott further says that he called the attention of Mr. Bessemer to what has been stated by his opponent to be a defect in his mode of converting iron into steel, namely, that when large masses of melted iron, amounting to from 3 to 12 tons, are converted into steel, it does not become homogeneous.

Mr. Bessemer partly admitted the force of the objection, but stated that in the works near London an improvement has recently been made by which, after the introduction of the Spiegel Eisen, the whole is stirred up by arms fitted to a revolving cylinder. He also stated that the iron of the United States which he has seen was peculiarly adapted to the manufacture of steel by his process. In England only the very best iron can be used for this purpose, and that which is most free from foreign substances, especially sulphur and phosphorus. The iron which is chiefly used in the Bessemer Works are varieties of red hemetite, the best of which is found on Morecambe Bay, near Furness Abbey. Consul Abbott closes by saying: "Valuable as is the invention of Mr. Bessemer, I cannot recommend it to American manufacturers unless they make use, in the process, of the very best pig iron, and that which is comparatively free from sulphur, phosphorus and other impurities."

The following is an abstract of the remarks of Mr. Bessemer, alluded to in the communication of Consul Abbott. Before the introduction of his process the entire production of steel in Great Britain was 1,000 tons per week, and now there was machinery for the production, on his process alone, of 5,000 tons in the same period. One of the most valuable purposes to which steel was applied was the construction of locomotive engines and rails. Where iron had been worn out in a few months, steel rails had been in constant use for four years, at the end of which time the first side was still in use. At Camden Town there was a portion of railway over which an immense amount of traffic passed. An iron rail and a Bessemer steel rail were placed opposite each other, and when the iron rail had been changed seventeen times the steel rail was still not worn.

The Bessemer steel was also valuable for the manufacture of tyres, the construction of ordnance, shafts for marine engines, cranks and notably for the cranks of locomotives; indeed there was scarcely any purpose for which malleable iron was formerly used that steel could not now be employed. A yard of the Camden Town rail, to which he had referred, was sent to Sheffield to be made into round bars, and came out of the rolling mill in beautiful back bars, three-eights, five-eights, and three-quarters inches in diameter, and were not worth less than £18 per ton, the cost of conversion being less than £2 per ton.

In regard to the price of steel, Mr. Bessemer said that firms that had expended immense sums in plans and machinery desired at first as large a return as possible for their outlay, but when manufacturers had been remunerated for their first large outlay they would be more reasonable in their demands.

The price of cast steel in Sheffield for the lowest purposes, such as making shovels, Mr. Bessemer said was £35 to £40 per ton, and the better kinds cost from £50 to £60, according to the reputation of the maker; but at this time thousands of tons were being sold at £14 per ton.

With the almost certain advent of cholera with the coming of the spring, no thoughtful person will be unprepared for it. Secure what experience has demonstrated to be the most certain antidote—that which has cured once, will cure again—and never [illegible] when an old and reliable one can be had.

When the cholera visited us on two former occasions, it was found by experience that

MALARIA, EVERYWHERE.—Rarely has there been a season as fruitful as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have even ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of nature above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the universal air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so perfect, an alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure, that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing causes of disease. [illegible] HOSTETTER'S BITTERS [illegible] Sold everywhere.—New York World, Nov. 8, 1866.

J. B. CAPEWELL,
WIND-GUARD AND AIR-HEATER FOR COAL OIL LAMPS.
PATENTED OCTOBER 25TH, 1865.

The merits of this invention consist in its protection to lamp chimneys, which are continually breaking while being used with the ordinary lamps. No sudden transition from heat to cold can crack or break these chimneys; the lamps can be carried with safety and without apprehension, in the most violent wind, reflecting a steady light under all circumstances, and the fact that one-third less of oil is consumed, renders this a most valuable acquisition to house keepers. Samples sent to any part of the U. S. on receipt of 25 cents, post paid.

CHOLERA IN ALLEGHENY.
To the Citizens of Allegheny.

The Street Committee of Allegheny Councils would call upon the citizens of Allegheny to adopt such measures as are necessary for abating the ravages of the Cholera which now threatens to visit our city. Some of the leading physicians of the city have been consulted, and they recommend the use of chloride of lime in liberal quantities, especially in dark, damp places; also, a thorough ventilation of our houses throughout the day, and at night to keep warm fires therein. The practice of THROWING UPON STREETS VEGETABLE MATTER of all descriptions, so that there and decomposes, when it exhales a poisonous vapor, is considered a frightful source of disease, and should therefore be discontinued, and all such refuse matter should either be burned or buried. All points of stagnant water should be dried at once, as nothing contributes more to produce disease. The citizens should act at once: it is not yet too late. The disease, though in our sister city, has not yet visited us, and it will rest with us as whether any of us fall victims to the scourge or not. Delay is fatal; if we do not adopt preventive measures now it will be too late when the disease has settled itself in our midst. Disinfectants and sanitary measures will then be useless, though possibly it might be checked to a certain extent, yet it would not be eradicated until it had done its work. The city authorities will do all in their power to enforce the sanitary laws of the city, but unless aided by the citizens themselves they are powerless for good, and we therefore most earnestly urge you to go at once to work, and thoroughly renovate, cleanse and purify the city.

Death and Funeral of John S. Rarey.

We clip the following concerning this distinguished man from the Columbus Journal: The funeral of John S. Rarey, the great horse tamer and much respected gentleman, took place at Groveport, on Sunday, October 7th. The attendance of friends from all parts of the county was very large, many persons being present from this city. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Felton, of this city, whose remarks were eminently appropriate. The funeral cortege was one of the largest ever seen in Groveport, and was composed almost entirely of the warm personal friends of the deceased. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: Col. Wm. Ewing, E. E. Seymour, M. Walton, Washington Reese, James Seymour, J. H. Sharp, C. P. Dildine, Welton Seymour, Wm. Sharp, A. Fielding, Wm. Seymour and J. L. Champ.

The remains were interred in the Groveport Cemetery, where several members of the Rarey family have been buried. Fifteen hundred or two thousand persons, perhaps, were in attendance.

The Rarey family is of German descent. The parents of the deceased, Adam and Catherine Rarey, were born in Pennsylvania, but all their children were born on the home place at Groveport. John was the youngest of eleven children, and was born December 6th, 1827, being at his death nearly thirty-nine years of age. Three brothers, two sisters, and his mother, (now about seventy-seven years of age,) survive him.

The incidents of Mr. Rarey's career as a horse tamer are so well known as to need scarcely a reference. Since December last Mr. Rarey has traveled almost constantly in the hopes of recovering from a paralytic stroke last winter. He was accompanied by Mrs. Williams, his niece, and they went to Cleveland about six weeks ago, stopping first at the Weddell House, then procuring apartments on St. Clair street, he taking each day his favorite horseback ride, and receiving daily visits from his physician.

At two o'clock, on Thursday, he walked out on the street, but returned soon after, and complained of a pain in his head. After being seated a few minutes, he said, "I am dying." Mrs. Williams called for help, and laid him on a lounge, and immediately summoned the nearest physician, while a messenger was also sent for the regular physician. He died in a little over an hour after the latter's arrival.

Amusements.

THE ENGLISH OPERA.—The English Opera continues to draw large and fashionable audiences at the Opera House. The people of Pittsburgh, as a general thing, delight in hearing genuine English music when rendered in good style. The day is not far distant when the English opera, especially when rendered by so talented a corps of performers as the Richings Troupe, will be considered the only legitimate operas in the country. Everybody should favor the Opera House with a visit during the stay of these great and unequalled vocalists.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—An overcrowded house greeted Mr. and Mrs. Florence last night. They are immensely popular here as well as throughout the Union. Since their advent here the Theatre has been crowded to its utmost capacity. They are well supported by the excellent stock company of the Old Drury. Saturday night will positively be the last appearance, for a season at least, of Mr. and Mrs. Florence, and we advise all of our readers to pay them a visit.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—This popular place of amusement continues to draw good houses, and it is deserving of success, since none but first-class actors appear upon the boards. Carleton, the great humorist, is in himself doubly worth the price of admission. He has no superiors, and few equals.

How Will This Suit?

As we reported yesterday, David E. Hall made affidavit before the Mayor, denying that he had received any letter from Messrs. Wilson, McElroy & Co. The opposition cavilled at this, and yesterday Mr. Hall made another affidavit, as follows:

CITY OF PITTSBURGH, ss.

Before me, W. C. McCarthy, Mayor in and for said city, personally came David E. Hall, who, upon oath administered according to law, deposes and says that he never received a letter from the firm of Wilson, McElroy & Co., nor did he ever show to William McGuire, or any other person or persons, any letter nor letters purporting to have been written by said firm or firms. Nor is there now, or there ever was, to his knowledge a thousand dollars with any firm in the city for him, or for him to use for any purpose whatever. D. E. HALL.

Sworn and subscribed to before me this ninth day of October, A. D., 1866.
W. C. McCARTHY, Mayor.

Sad Accident.

A young man named Peter Bausman, who resides with his parents in South Wheeling, met with a sad accident, which will prove fatal. He was out hunting in the woods a short distance from his home, and had treed and fired upon a squirrel. The squirrel, Bausman thought, was wounded, but did not fall; he reloaded his gun and hung it on the limb of the tree, and began to climb up to ascertain the whereabouts and condition of the squirrel. He had not got far up the tree when the gun fell and went off. The charge entered the [illegible] abdomen and lodged in his back. The young man was found lying on the ground sometime after the accident, and was taken up and conveyed to his home. Physicians were summoned, but they pronounced the wound a mortal one, and deemed it best not to add to the young man's suffering by extracting the ball.

Sudden Death of Wm. J. Richardson.

This morning we have to announce the death of William J. Richardson, Register of Allegheny county. During the two years which Mr. Richardson has held this office he has, by his gentlemanly deportment and upright business character, endeared himself to a large circle, who will hear of his sudden demise with sincere regret. Death is seldom welcome, come when he may, and especially not when he claims his victims in the prime of manhood. Mr. Richardson died in his thirty-third year. This morning at ten o'clock the funeral will take place from the late residence of the deceased.

Saved from the Cholera.—Yesterday morning, as we learn, a man named William Godman, in the eastern portion of the city, fearing that a slight diarrhea with which he was afflicted was genuine Asiatic cholera, concluded to "doctor" himself. He swallowed an entire bottle of Perry Davis' Pain Killer, and followed it with a dose of laudanum. He did not take the cholera, but the remedy did the business for him most effectually. A deep sleep succeeded the heroic doses of the antidote, from which the unfortunate man never awoke. Fear that ends in death is quite as bad as a disease from which one may recover.

LOCK STITCH.—The best in use, stitches alike on both sides; the cheapest machine by 20 per cent. in use and will sew faster, and it gives satisfaction in all cases. Plain finish up to mahogany inlaid with pearl, silver plated and rosewood.

200 Patterns Braid and Embroidery Stamps for sale, and stamping done. No. 112 Grant street.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. te11:d&w

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Davis's Trial—Official Statement to be Published—Inspection of Southern Forts—Secretary Seward's Health—Cabinet Meeting—Election Anxieties.

NEW YORK, October 9.—The Times's Washington special says: In a day or two an official statement of the condition of Jeff. Davis, with reference especially to the failure to bring the prisoner to trial, will be given to the public, and it is probable that the Chief Justice, Judge Underwood, the United States District Attorney and the United States Marshal of Virginia, will be formally notified that the prisoner is now held by the Government, subject to a writ of the United States Circuit Court of Virginia, to answer the indictment found in that Court. These officers will doubtless be requested to take immediate possession of the prisoner.

The following Internal Revenue officers received their commissions to-day: Thomas J. Reilley, Assessor Third Indiana District; Elias A. Calkins, Collector Second Wisconsin District; R. S. Saunders, Collector Eighth Tennessee District; Sylvester F. Mann, Collector Second Illinois District; Basil C. Brown, Assessor Fourteenth Ohio District.

Brevet Major General James O. Hardee, Inspector General, and Brevet Brigadier General A. P. Howe, Acting Inspector General of Artillery, who have been on a tour of official inspection of the forts and arsenals through the South, returned last week. They depart again to-morrow to complete their work in other localities. This is the first regular inspection of southern forts since the close of the war.

Secretary Seward was well enough to be at the State Department to-day, though not performing his regular official duties.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—The White House is closed to the public to-day, in consequence of the usual Cabinet meeting. Throughout the whole city, among all classes of politicians, great anxiety is felt to learn the results of to-day's elections. As heretofore the President has unshaken confidence in a material gain of Congressmen pledged to the Administration policy, however else the local and State offices may go.

BALTIMORE RIOT.

Democratic Attack on Republicans—Democratic Headquarters Attacked.

BALTIMORE, October 9.—Considerable excitement occurred here this morning at the corner of Baltimore and North streets, occasioned by an attack made by a number of Republicans on the Democratic and Conservative Headquarters. A National flag which hung suspended in front of the building was cut down, and for a time there were apprehensions of a most serious difficulty. The police came to the rescue, and compelled the rioters to return the flag, which was forthwith restored to its former position.

Last night a party of Conservatives made an attack on some Republicans in the eastern section of the city, which resulted in a fierce fight. John Gaiety, one of the attacking party, was shot—receiving three balls in his body. His condition is exceedingly precarious. Several other parties were slightly injured.

The Fenians—Fenian Picnic—Address of Santa Anna.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Gen. Santa Anna delivered an address at the Fenian picnic on Staten Island yesterday. He said, among other things, that when Mexico was invaded by that noble enemy on whose hospitable soil I am now; when I had arrayed against me the powerful armies of the United States, under that immortal hero General Scott, the flower of my army then were companies composed of men from the Green Isle, with the image of the Patron Saint on their flag.

Colonel William R. Roberts also spoke at considerable length on the wrongs of Ireland, and the glorious results which would follow a determined attempt to secure her liberation.

Colonel Roberts made an address in the evening to the St. Patrick Circle, in which he was very denunciatory of the Government.

From Canada—Charge of Chief Justice Wilson.

NEW YORK, October 9.—The Herald's special says: The Toronto Assizes opened their sessions yesterday. Chief Justice Wilson delivered the charge to the Grand Jury, in which he referred to the Fenian prisoners. He paid a tribute to the devotion of the Irish people to their native land, and reviewed the origin and progress of the Fenian Brotherhood in America. He said many of the prisoners were reckless, wild young men, of the class so frequent in the cities of the United States, and commented severely [illegible] the course of the United States Government, in not quelling the conspiracy when its existence was so widely proclaimed through the public press. It is supposed that the trial of the Fenians will commence on Tuesday.

From Montana—Whole Route Infested with Indians—Failure of a Banking House.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Tribune's Leavenworth special says: Reports from Montana say that the trains arrived after a continuous series of battles with the Indians. Some of the goods were unmanageable, and the whole route is infested with Indians. [illegible]

The banking house of E. A. Grover & Co. has failed. [illegible]

From South Carolina—Adjournment of the South Carolina Legislature.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Herald's Charleston correspondent says: The South Carolina Legislature [illegible] after a short session. The Black Code was virtually repealed, and all the Civil Rights Bill adopted, except suffrage, office holding and being a juror are now extended to the negroes. It is reported that Governor Orr will recommend the adoption of the constitutional Amendment, and a new election of representatives who can take the oath.

Arrest of an Alleged Swindler.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Some dubious transactions of an alleged swindler named Scofield, lately came to light. His operations covered over seventy thousand dollars. He was arrested three times in Hoboken, and finally lodged in the Hudson county jail, where he was detained to await a requisition from Gov. Fenton, but was released yesterday afternoon on a writ of habeas corpus.

Gen. Dix and the French Mission.

NEW YORK, October 9.—The Times states that General Dix does not propose to take charge of the French mission until about the first of December, the date at which Mr. Bigelow desired his resignation, if accepted, to take effect. The General's family will precede him to Europe, having taken passage in the steamer Arago, for Havre, on the 27th inst.

The Late Admiral Gregory—Resolutions of Respect.

NEW YORK, October 9.—The naval officers on duty at this station met yesterday and passed resolutions of respect for the memory of Admiral Gregory. Vice Admiral Farragut presided, and addressed the meeting in a few remarks eulogistic of the deceased, with whom he had served in the West India squadron as early as 1815.

CAUTION.—The above Remedies have now been before the public many years, and their great success in the alleviation of human misery, has excited the cupidity of several parties, who use the name "Specific Pills," counterfeit my labels, circulars and advertisements, sometimes word for word, and put up worthless compounds that disappoint the just expectations of the purchaser.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, October 9, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, were as follows: Gold, 148⅛; 1881 bonds, 112¾, Five Twenties, old, 113; do, new, 110⅝; Ten-Forties, 99⅝; 7-30s, 106⅝; 7-30s, 2d issue, 106¾. Michigan Southern Railroad, 85⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 89⅜; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway, 109¼; Erie, 83⅝; Western Union Telegraph Company, 55⅝; Chicago & North Western Railroad, 44¼; do preferred, 74; Chicago & Rock Island, 107¼.

—The last statement of the public debt is probably the most gratifying of the many that have appeared from time to time since the debt assumed its gigantic proportions. In the month of September the net liquidation amounted to $22,736,221, and since August 1st, 1865, the sum of $183,916,334, being an average of over thirteen millions per month since that date. The process of liquidation as thus exemplified is a steady and sure thing, and bids fair, under prudent management, to continue in that ratio until the entire burthen of the national indebtedness is removed. A main feature of the last statement is the conversion of seven-thirties into five-twenty bonds, a fact which shows the determination of the Secretary of the Treasury to consolidate the debt as far as possible into a uniform shape, and rid the department of the apprehended embarrassment to meet the national creditors whose bonds fall due in a short time. More than eighty-six millions of the seven-thirty loan (originally $830,000,000, now reduced to $743,996,005) have thus been funded. The notes so provided for were nearly all of the first series, maturing in August of the coming year. Hence, it seems that over a fourth of the notes of this series (originally amounting to $300,000,000) have been prematurely funded, lessening, to this extent, the impending calls on the department for cash or bonds, according the reserved rights of the noteholders. The bulk of the series will doubtless be as satisfactorily arranged for, ahead of maturity. Half of the temporary loan has been cancelled during the month. It was as much as $45,535,000 on the 1st ult.; it is now down to $[illegible]. These are important gains for the Treasury.

—At New York, Governments have been very firm, since the publication of the October statement of the Treasury. Large amounts of old Five Twenties have been bought, with a view to putting up the price. It is also stated that there is reason for supposing that at the same time the London market for these bonds and the gold market are being manipulated so as to chime in with the movement.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

There was next to nothing done in the produce markets to-day, the election being the all absorbing topic of conversation, and the great majority of our business men were at the polls. Consequently, we have but little to report, the transactions in the leading commodities being very much restricted.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm but unchanged; sale of 1 car No. 1 Spring at $2,60. Oats quiet but steady at 49 to 50. Corn is quoted at 90 to 92, on track, and 95 to $1 from store. No movement in Rye or Barley. Supply of Wheat almost exhausted, and but little Corn or Barley.

FLOUR—There is a continued fair demand for Flour, and while the market is firm prices remain unchanged. We quote from store at $12 to $12½ for Spring Wheat, and $12½ to $13½ for Winter Wheat brands. Rye Flour is selling at $6,50 to $6,75.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull and unchanged. We quote at 17c to 17½c for Shoulders; 18½ to 19 for Ribbed Sides, and 25 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull and a shade lower, being quoted at 19½ to 20. Mess Pork at $34 to $34½.

BUTTER—The receipts of Butter continue large, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, the market is dull and weak, with a drooping tendency. Prime to choice may be quoted at 33 to 35.

EGGS—The demand is fair and market steady, with regular sales at 27 to 28.

APPLES—Steady, with a moderate demand but unchanged, at $2 to $3 per bbl.

ASHES—Quiet; soda Ash may be quoted at 5 for common, and 6 for refined: Pearls, 15.

POTATOES—May be quoted at $1,75 to $5,25 per bbl—mostly at $5 for Jerseys.

CHEESE—Is reported steady at 17 to 18 for Western Reserve; 18 to 19 for Hamburg, and 20 to 22 for Goshen, as to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

The oil men on the Allegheny wharf seemed to have forgotten their calling and turned their well known energy in a political direction, and instead of "bulls" and "bears" they became "Clymer's" and Geary's, and from bulk boats they turned their attention to the bulk of votes. Speculation ran upon future majorities rather than future deliveries.

The arrivals at the Allegheny wharf were almost as meagre as the transactions, the stage of water precluding the shipment of bulk and the shipment of barreled oil having ceased during the high water, has not yet been fairly resumed. The eastern markets remain without material change, but is dull and lifeless. The excitement of the election being once over we hope to see a little more life infused into the trade. The only transactions in Crude which came under notice was 500 bbls prime bulk oil at 14; 575—good gravity—packages returned, at 14, and one boat of bulk at 13¾. In Refined we have nothing to report, though sales may have been made. Forty-two was offered in Philadelphia for one or two lots for immediate delivery, which seems to be the ruling rate.

The arrivals continue light. Fisher & Bro. report having received 1032, and Little & Williams 600—total, 1632 barrels.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

CATTLE.

The market was very dull and inactive this week, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, if anything, prices were a shade lower than last week. The retail demand was, apparently, less active than usual, the butchers buying rather sparingly, and there was an almost entire absence of shippers—but one car load sold, we believe, for shipment. Common and inferior cattle were excessively dull, and to effect sales at all, concessions had to be made; and even good fat cattle did not meet with as ready sale as usual. Upon the whole, the market was a very hard one for drovers, and notwithstanding the supply was not unusually large, it is estimated that over two hundred head were left over unsold.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The market for Sheep has undergone no material change one way or the other. While it is true that the demand for mutton always falls off at this season of the year, it is also true that the offerings of good mutton sheep are light, and consequently, prices are pretty well maintained, ranging from 6 to 6½. Common to medium may be quoted at 5 to 5½. Glass & Lafferty bought 96 head at 5 cts, and Gray sold Emerick & Co. 100 head, averaging 99 lbs, at 5.

SWINE.

There is a moderate retail demand for Hogs and in a retail way, we quote at $10 to $11, gross, for fair to prime heavy averages. Glass & Lafferty sold Emerick & Co. 59 head at $9,80.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Ellenbery sold Haas & Kraus 8 head at 3½, and 16 head to Good & Co. at 5¼. Merrick & Doud retailed 25 head at 6½ to 7¾. Greenwald Kahn 46 head.

Kraus & Haas sold 18 head to Rothchilds & Co., and retailed 84 at 5½ to 7. Marks & Traurman retailed 141 head at 6 to 8½, and wholesaled 20 head at $66 per head.

Myers & Needy sold 36 head, averaging 1000, to Vanvoorhes at 6; 25 head to Merrick & Doud, averaging 1000, at 6¾, and retailed 112 head.

Detroit Lumber Market.

The lumber trade continues to be characterized by great activity, the city and country demand being very large, and there is also a good inquiry from abroad. A leading Cleveland dealer states that although he has endeavored, as is customary in the fall, to stock up, lumber has gone out about as rapidly as it has been put in. In the Saginaw valley, although the trade continues to be embarrassed by the high price of freights, lumber is firm, and common has tended upward. In Chicago, although the supply is at present actually beyond the capacity of the docks, prices are well maintained, from the conviction that all the lumber will be wanted. In our market, we hear of a sale of a quarter of a million feet of common, at $18—the yard price.—Post, October 8.

English Harvests.

Further advices from Europe corroborate those previously received, to the effect that there has been a partial failure of the crops both in Great Britain and on the Continent. In consequence, breadstuffs have advanced in price considerably in the English corn market. The cause of the failure is attributed to long continued high winds and heavy rains. In Ireland the damage has been particularly great, and in some districts an almost total destruction of the crops, both cut and uncut, is reported, owing to the rain torrents.

Dried Fruit in Tennessee.

The Jonesboro' (Tenn.) Flag, of the 28th ult., says of dried fruit:

The greatest abundance of this staple has been disposed of to our merchants by the farmers during the past week, the prices ranging at $6 per bush for peaches, and $2 for Apples. Thousands of bushels yet remain unsold, many holding their fruit back in the hope that prices will take a rise. The fruit crop has been unusually good this year, while the season has not been surpassed for drying purposes.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The demand for money has fallen off very materially, and the market is easy at 4 per cent. as a general thing, and there are a few exceptions at 5 per cent. Discounts are unchanged, and prime paper is still down at 5@6½. The market for Exchange opened firmer to-day, and rose to 107½ for bankers' bills, but closed up at about 107¼. Gold closed steadily at 149¾. Loans were made to-day at ½ per cent. premium to flat, but the closing rate was 4 per cent. interest on currency. The Government Securities have been in good demand to-day, but at the close 5-20 bonds were a little weaker; 5-20 coupons of '65, 110⅛@110¾; 10-40 coupons, 99⅝@99⅞; July 7-30's, 106@106¼.

At the last open board the Stock market was quiet, and from after the call Northwestern common was weak and lower, but Illinois Central and Michigan Southern was higher and in demand. There has been some excitement in 7-30s to-day, owing probably to the peremptory orders from Washington, that no June or July notes, shall under any circumstances be accepted in exchange for new bonds of '65, in some exceptional cases this has hitherto been done.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Post's money article says: There is no change in the loan market. Discount rates are 5@6c. Stocks strong. Governments firm without much change. Railroad Shares advancing, except Erie, which speculative causes have depressed as low as 81½. Michigan Southern, Fort Wayne and Northwestern are among the strongest on the list. After board New York Central was quoted at 115; Erie, 83⅛; Michigan Southern, 89⅝; Illinois, 126½; Northwestern, 44½; do preferred, 74⅝; Rock Island, 107⅛; Fort Wayne, 109⅝. Foreign Exchange dull. Bills at sixty days on London are quoted at 105@106 for commercial, 106½@107¼ for bankers, and do at short sight, 107¾@108⅛.

The Commercial's money article says: The Loan market is very quiet and the main transaction continue to be made at 4 per cent. Paper finds a quick market at 5@6 per cent. for long and short dates. Foreign Exchange is firmer and the rate has advanced to 107½ for gold. The general price paid for a day's accommodation is ¾ to 1 per cent. In the Stock market Erie still presents the feature of interest. It opened at 83, fell to 82, rallied on second call to 83¼@83⅜, and stood at half past one o'clock at 83¼@83⅜. Other railroad stocks are irregular, but the market was on the whole well sustained. New York Central was sold down to 114¾, but closed at 115@115⅛ at the first Board, about the same as last evening, and advanced to 115¼@115⅜ at the one o'clock session. Governments were firm without change in prices and only moderate sales.

At the close of the four o'clock Board the following were the quotations: New York Central, 115⅛; Erie, 83¼; Hudson River, 119; Reading, 117½; Michigan Southern, 89⅝; Pittsburgh, 89⅝; Northwestern, 44½; Rock Island, 107⅛.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Cotton dull, at 37@38 for Middling Uplands and Orleans. Flour less active and 15@25c lower, at $8,00@10,75 for Extra State; $9,90@11,90 for common to good shipping brands extra round hoop Ohio, and $11,90@13,75 for trade brands; closing heavy. Whisky steady, in bond at $2,41, and 500 bbls old, in bond, at $2,45. Wheat very dull and 3@5c lower; New Amber Michigan about $2,95. Rye is dull and drooping; New Green Bay, $1,17; Barley heavy and 3@5c lower, at about $1,10 for Canada West, and State at $1,25. Barley Malt dull. Receipts of Corn, 116,745 bushels; market 1c lower, with a fair business doing, and closing rather more steady; sales of 165,000 bushels at 92c for inferior; 95c for shipping mixed western, afloat, and 94@96c for white western. COWS AND CALVES.—Extra per head, $90,00@$100,25; first quality, $80,00@85,00; ordinary, 65,00@75,00; common, 50,00@60,00; inferior, 40,00@45,00.

SWINE.—Corn fed per pound, 10½@11c; light and medium, 10@10½c, with heavy receipts and no improvement in the demand.

The market for beef cattle has ruled heavy for extra, which were quite scarce, commanded previous prices, quite a number being sold at 18c. The bulk of the sales were made at from 15½@17c; the latter price for prime. The quality of the offerings was fair, very few selling below 12@13c. The number on sale to day at the national yard is 3,500 head.

Veal calves are in good demand; firm sales made in some cases of extra as high as 14c for fresh, but 13½c was generally considered the top price.

Sheep and lambs are in large supply and lower with only a moderate business. Hogs comparatively steady up to Saturday, and declined ½c per pound. To-day the market was very quiet, heavy and a still further decline is anticipated should the receipts continue heavy this week. The total receipts of all the stock at all the yards for this and last week were as follows: Beeves, 6,313, last week 6,137; cows 99, last week 75; veal calves 1,901, last week 1,238; sheep and lambs 27,241, last week 28,024; swine, 15,127, last week 14,486.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, October 9.—The Commercial reports a softening or concession in the dry good trade among jobbers. Goods are really very low and firm, the combination of circumstances preventing trade during the summer months, the fear of cholera, and the lateness with which trade set in. The stocks were quite large, and the prices were reduced to the lowest possible figure to attract business, and from these low figures the advance is but small, thus rendering the present prices very low. The advance was chiefly confined to Brown Sheetings and Shirting, and Prints. In brown goods the price is close down to the cost of production, and jobbers seem to be willing to reduce it to correspond with the changes in cotton, so there is a better disposition to take goods, as most buyers believe cotton cannot be much lower.

St. Louis Market.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—The market generally is unchanged. The present stock of hog products at St. Louis, exclusive of butchers, is [illegible] as follows: 1,029,030 lbs. clear side; 205,000 lbs. rib sides; 51,800 lbs shoulders; 431,000 lbs hams; 3,000 tierces lard; 1,100 kegs lard; 1,900 bbls mess pork; 2,800 bbls. prime mess.

Corn dull; Toledo sold at 91c; no sales this afternoon; buyers bid 89c. Toledo, 91c on the spot, and 92c to arrive. Pork, $34,00. Lard 19½@19¾c.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary at this point yesterday, with scant thirty inches reported at Glass House. The weather during the day was cloudy and warm, and towards evening we had a slight sprinkling of rain.

The Kate Robinson, from Cincinnati, and the Leni Leoti, from Parkersburg, are the only arrivals, while aside from the packets there were no departures.

The Kate Putnam, from St. Louis, and the Argosy, from Cincinnati, are the first boats due, and the Yorktown, from St. Louis, ought to reach here to-morrow or next day, though, she will doubtless be delayed by low water.

The fine steamer Dubuque, built by Wilson, Dunlevy & Co., for the Northern Line Packet Company of St. Louis, was launched from the boat yard in North Wheeling at about half past four o'clock on Saturday morning. She is one of the largest and finest boats ever built in this city. She is two hundred and thirty feet long, thirty-six feet wide, and five and a half feet depth of hold. She will be brought to this city, where her cabin and machinery will be built.

"Regarding casualities on board of steamboats, I can only say that collisions are altogether unnecessary, if a due observance of the rules provided for the government of pilots is made use of. These things only occur from sheer negligence or unskillfulness of the pilots, as I have seen steamers pass each other in the narrowest channels in close proximity, when in the hands of skillful pilots. So I would say, keep a skillful pilot always at the wheel, and no danger of a collision. Regarding the explosion of boilers, I do not think they are necessary, as after thirty years of practical experience as chief engineer, I have never had an accident, because of the fact that I at all times carried well saturated steam, and by this, plenty of water, and although before the laws regulated the presure, I carried excessive amounts of steam, I now, from my long experience, am of the opinion that steam well saturated with water is more effective at 120 or 130 pounds than at 175 pounds, because of leaks—the consequence of such heavy pressures. Give the cylinder air and the well saturated steam will do the work with much more satisfaction to the engineer, less labor, less expense, and be more effectual.

"The use of tubular boilers I utterly condemn, there being no bracing in them to meet the impinging or hinging of the boiler heads endwise, in the use of those tubes, while in the use of the larger flue, by its riveting, at either end, a perfect brace is made for the endwise presure on boilers. Many are of the opinion that electricity is the cause of explosions. I feel to the contrary, and that all the machines invented are not equivalent to a good, competent and careful engineer and pilot."

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Monday, says:

Lewis Stattenfield, a well-known clerk on the Ohio, Mississippi and Arkansas rivers, died in this city, of cholera, on Saturday night. The deceased has relatives residing in Wilkensburg, Pa. ......The Harry Dean will shortly enter the Memphis and Arkansas river trade, in charge of Captain Harrison Blaisdell. ......The Importer reshipped her New Orleans freight—sixty-five tons—on the Lady Franklin......Capt. Jesse Dean will drop the Messenger down to the levee by the close of the present week, and commence loading for New Orleans. She has been thoroughly repaired, in the Eureka Docks, and is in fine business order again.

THE NEW Spring and Summer Medicine.

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

COMBINED WITH

Iodide of Lime,

PREPARED FOR G. W. PETTES, BOSTON, BY James R. Nichols & Co. MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS, MANUFACTURERS OF THE ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK WITH Protoxide of Iron, Which has become so favorably known as a Tonic and Restorative, By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME," presents one of the most potent alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to take the syrup, encountered. In White-Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or relieve all these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination, never before resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all first-class Druggists.

PITTSBURGH, January 11, 1866.

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with [illegible] cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case [illegible] procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought, the first time, a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, [illegible]. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so. WM. WILSON, Alderman, Fifth Ward.

PITTSBURGH, April 26, 1866.

READ THE TRUTH.—DR. KEYSER:—I have a daughter who has taken several medicines for a bad cough without benefit, among them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I purchased from you a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup and before she had used half a bottle she was relieved. The second bottle cured her entirely. JOHN DARIN, Robinson street, Allegheny.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—I live in Peebles township, Allegheny county. I had a cough and [illegible] for eight months. I employed the best physicians in the county, and my cough continued unabated until early in October. At that time I was advised to try your Pectoral Cough Syrup, which I did, and after I had taken one bottle I was entirely free from the cough and spitting. [illegible] JOHN C. LITTLE, Peebles township. Witness R. F. KERR.

PATTON TOWNSHIP, April 16, 1866.

A WONDERFUL CURE.—Some time ago an old neighbor of mine was very ill with a bad cough, which every one supposed to be consumption. [illegible] I had about the third of a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, which I gave him, and it entirely cured him, to the astonishment of all. [illegible] I have no doubt the Pectoral saved his life. JOHN McGINNES.

DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP IN BLAIRSVILLE.—Please send me another supply of your valuable Pectoral Syrup. [illegible] In fact, all who use it once want it again. Yours, respectfully, J. S. WATTERSON & SONS. January 26, 1866.

PITTSBURGH, November 15, 1865.

DR. KEYSER—Although not an advocate of Patent Medicines, in general, it affords me pleasure [illegible] to recommend your PECTORAL SYRUP. [illegible] EDWARD J. JONES, Cashier Citizens' Deposit Bank.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, March 14, 1866.

I have used Dr. Keyser's Cough Syrup for a bad cough of several years standing, and can cheerfully say it is the best medicine for the cough that I have ever taken. J. W. PRICE.

ANOTHER NEW CERTIFICATE.—DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—[illegible] J. W. SIMONTON, No. 246 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa. January 9th, 1866.

"STOP THAT COUGHING." "How can I do it?" Go to Keyser's, on Wood street, and get a bottle of his Cough Pectoral, and if that don't cure you, your case must be desperate indeed." [illegible]—Brownsville City par., Dec. 14, 1865.
